Nuyorican street poetry is a unique blend of Puerto Rican and American culture. It is often characterized by its use of Spanglish, its focus on urban life, and its celebration of the Nuyorican experience.

The poems in this anthology are as diverse as the Nuyorican community itself. They explore themes of love, loss, identity, and social justice. They are also full of humor, wit, and passion.

One of the highlights of the anthology is Miguel Algarín's poem "Ode to the Lower East Side." In this poem, Algarín celebrates the vibrant culture of the Lower East Side, a neighborhood that has been home to Nuyoricans for generations.

Another highlight of the anthology is Sandra María Esteves' poem "My Name is Maria." In this poem, Esteves explores the complex identity of a Nuyorican woman.
